Fairview Loses Community Leader

Cancer takes life of Former Mayor Roger Vonderharr

Our community lost a cherished individual when former Mayor Roger Vonderharr passed away on Sunday, May 22nd at the age of 67. Roger served two terms as Mayor from 1995 to 2002, a period of rapid growth and change for the City of Fairview. During his mayoral tenure, Fairview saw the construction of Fairview Village, the opening of our new City Hall, Post Office and Library, and unprecedented residential growth. Roger was also instrumental in pushing for the replacement of the Union Pacific railroad bridge along 223rd Avenue, a major north-south connection which was recently completed.

In addition to serving as Mayor, he served on the Fairview Planning Commission from 1987 to 1991 and on the City Council from 1991 to 1994. Even after his service to our community as mayor, Roger continued to serve Fairview in a variety of ways including on the Fairview Budget Committee, the Columbia Cascade River District Committee, and the Fairview Rockwood

Wilkes Historical Society. He even served as an interim City Administrator for a few months prior to the start of our current City Administrator in December 2006.

The City of Fairview has previously recognized Roger's many contributions to Fairview with the naming of the Roger A. Vonderharr Pavilion in Fairview Community Park across from Fairview City Hall. The pavilion is home to many different types of summer activities and uses. A plaque commemorating his service to our community is located on the pavilion.

In his spare time, Roger enjoyed cooking, gardening, fishing, hunting and camping. He was a long-time member of the St. Henry Catholic Church Knights of Columbus as well. Survivors include his wife Vivian; sons Andre, Keith and Jacob; one granddaughter; 10 brothers and sisters; and his beloved dog, Wolf. Roger was buried with full military honors on May 31st at Willamette National Cemetery in Portland.

From the Desk of

Mayor Mike Weatherby

Greetings to all of our citizens! Now that spring is here, there is the expectation that sunshine will be arriving along with all that summer brings. There are a number of events to look forward to in Fairview this summer. We will be holding two different neighborhood picnics in July and August which provides a great opportunity to talk with me and the rest of the City Council members. Another major event for the whole family is Fairview's National Night Out. It will be held Tuesday, August 2nd, starting at 5:00 p.m. This is always a great community event that I encourage you to attend. While I am disappointed that we recently made the decision to cancel this year's summer festival, Fairview on the Green, the popular signature summer event will return next year.

I do want to take the time to mention the passing of Roger Vonderharr, the prior Mayor of Fairview, who was a good friend to myself and to Fairview. I highly valued his wisdom and involvement in such things as being a member of our Budget Committee and the Chair of the Columbia Corridor Association. He truly will be missed. Please let your thoughts and best wishes be with his wife and family.

Finally, we recently held National Police Week in May, so let us not forget to support the Fairview Police Officers. This is a good opportunity to remember the importance of those who are quietly there 24/7/365 to protect us. They are a valued and respected part of our city, and very worthy of our support. I wish you a great summer; let's hope that it includes lots of sunshine and smiles.

Summer Festival Postponed for One Year

Fairview on the Green will return in 2012

After a late start in planning the event and the challenges of raising sponsorship dollars in the continuing difficult business climate, the City of Fairview has decided to cancel this year's 6th annual Fairview on the Green festival originally scheduled for August 27, 2011. Although disappointing, the City is already planning the return of the successful summer event in 2012. "We are certainly disappointed in having to make this decision, but we do not want to lose any of the success and momentum from the previous five years," stated Mayor Mike Weatherby.

In addition to the late start, this is the first year of a transition from a strictly city-led event to handing the event over to a new city-affiliated non-profit. "We are still working out some of the details with the new nonprofit which delayed planning for this year's event," stated Joseph Gall, City Administrator. "We have been working with our various entertainment vendors and sponsors to help ensure a great festival next year."

Similar to other successful summer events like the Vancouver 4th of July Fireworks that returned after a year hiatus, the festival organizers will regroup and begin planning for the 2012 event. For more information or to get involved with planning for next year as a board member, please contact Devree Leymaster at 503.674.6202 or by email at leymasterd@ci.fairview.or.us

Chief's Corner

by Chief Ken Johnson

Abuse of prescription drugs is rapidly becoming a significant health and public safety concern. In fact, among young people ages 12-17, prescription drugs have become the second most abused illegal drug, behind marijuana. Oregon ranks as one of the top ten WORST states in abuse for:

- Annual abuse of prescription drugs for all ages
- Past year abuse of prescription drugs by youth 12-17

It is now estimated that one out of every four adults, in Oregon, will abuse prescription drugs in their lifetime. The economic toll to our nation from this abuse, is staggering. In 2002 alone, abuse of prescription drugs costs were nearly $181 billion. Direct costs related to non-medical use of prescription drugs are considerable-for example, 25% of visits to hospital emergency departments are associated with abuse of prescription drugs!

Several studies have concluded that the abuse is due, in part, to easy access to prescription pills. Thousands of people a day are given a prescription for pain killers and other prescription drugs. In most cases, the patient uses the pills for a day or two then discontinues use. The pills are placed on a shelf or in an unlocked cabinet and forgotten, easily accessible to a teenager or adult.

It is clear that unused prescription drugs MUST be removed from our homes. Annual or semi-annual "Prescription Drug Turn In Events" are not enough. We must do more. As a result, the Fairview Police Department has launched a campaign to help remove unwanted and/or unused prescription drugs from our homes.

The Fairview Police Department has received federal DEA (Drug Enforcement Administration) approval to place a secure drug receptacle in the lobby of the Fairview Police Department. Anyone wishing to destroy prescription drugs can simply come to the Police Department and drop the unused and unwanted prescription drugs in the receptacle. You will not have to identify yourself or even give your name. In fact, you will not need to talk with anyone: Drop the drugs in the receptacle and leave, it is that simple. It is important to note that we cannot accept illegal drugs, only prescription drugs.

Chief Johnson Shows Off New Deposit Box

By the time you read this article, we will have the receptacle installed in the lobby of the Fairview Police Department. The prescription drug receptacle will be available to the public during normal business hours for the Fairview Police Department: Monday through Friday 8:00 am until 5:00 pm, except traditional holidays.

We believe so strongly in getting unwanted or unused prescription drugs out of homes and eliminating that temptation that we are taking the lead in East County in offering this ongoing Prescription Drug Turn In Program. We sincerely hope you will take advantage of this opportunity. Together, we can make a difference. Together we can turn back this epidemic and lessen the social and economic impact caused by abuse of prescription drugs.

Council Corner

by City Councilor Dan Kreamier

In our world today, so many things are taken for granted. Safe streets, clean parks and good potable drinking water to name a few. The City of Fairview staff works hard everyday to ensure these things for the citizens of Fairview. With that said what can we (the citizens) do to make our City a better place to live? I encourage you, the citizens of Fairview, to get involved and volunteer some of your time to help make one of our many community events the best it can be. It is our civic duty to make our community the absolute best place it can be, to live, work and raise our children. By getting involved it sets a great example for future generations to follow and who knows, you might get to meet other great residents and form new lasting friendships.

Being involved creates more ownership of our community and builds a more open line of communication with City Hall. By working together we can make the City of Fairview the "go to place" to live in east county, one with a vision for the future; A place where people will want to relocate and raise their children and play in our great parks.

The following are a few of Fairview's community events that would be a great place to volunteer your time and make a big difference. The Christmas Tree Lighting, Easter Egg Hunt, and National Night Out to name a few that are annual events. On a continual basis the Fairview/Rockwood/Wilkes Historical Society could always use an extra hand to complete all of the work that they do to preserve our local historical memorabilia too. Please contact Joseph Gall, our City Administrator at City Hall to find out about the various ways to volunteer. After all, we are all in this together as a community. I hope everyone has a fun and safe summer ahead.

City Council Adopts FY2011-12 Goals

Annual Goals Provide Direction to Staff

With the beginning of a new fiscal year starting on July 1st, the Fairview City Council has developed and adopted a new list of City Council goals for the upcoming year. These goals help to provide clear direction to the City's management staff in terms of priorities and projects that are important to the elected body. Workplans for the different city departments are based upon this list of goals. Below is the adopted list of Council goals:

Economic Development

- Support the ongoing efforts to bring the USS Ranger project to fruition along the Columbia River waterfront
- Complete an internal audit of Fairview Development Code to ensure development obstacles are lessened or eliminated
- Review zoning of currently vacant property to ensure preparedness for commercial/industrial development
- Research and create incentives for new and existing commercial/industrial businesses
- Investigate feasibility of Urban Renewal as a possible tool for Fairview Town Center

Livability Enhancement

- Continue improvement and beautification of entrances to City of Fairview
- Continue to focus on beautification and code enforcement within the Historic Fairview neighborhood

Citizen Communication

- Create and implement recognition programs for citizens and volunteers
- Continue Mayor's Business Roundtable program to encourage good communication with local businesses

Parks

- Adopt updated park master plans for Salish Ponds Park and Park Cleone
- Choose location for development of a community skate park
- Explore alternatives to City maintenance of neighborhood "pocket parks"

Fiscal Responsibility

- Research, develop and adopt Fund Balance Policy
- Develop and implement Facility Maintenance Plan for City Hall and other city facilities
- Diversify City's investments to promote higher returns

Public Safety

- Work to ensure that our Police Department has two officers scheduled on duty at all times
- Strengthen Police Reserve Program
- Research viability of regional Police Department partnerships in East County
- Improve traffic and pedestrian safety in area surrounding Fairview Post Office

Public Works

- Investigate the feasibility for a new Public Works Facility at existing location

Regional Partnerships

- Provide regional leadership in East County
- Implement a new contract with Bureau of Emergency Communication (BOEC) with enhanced attention to long term funding issues
- Continue to investigate opportunities for shared services with Troutdale, Wood Village and Gresham to leverage our limited fiscal resources
- Implement a new Intergovernmental Agreement for transportation with Multnomah County

Internal Organization

- Complete and adopt Five Year Strategic Plan
- Support the continued development of strong departments and staff
- Support City Administration in improved employee development and recognition programs
- Review departmental work plans to promote clear communication between Council and staff

Similar to many City Councils in other cities, these goals were developed through an annual goal-setting retreat held earlier this year prior to development of the budget for the upcoming year. The process is an important exercise to help ensure consistency between the elected and appointed leaders within the organization.

SOLV Event Impacts City Park

On Saturday, April 16th, 15 volunteers helped to clear approximately 20,000 square feet of invasive ivy and blackberry at Fairview Woods Park. The Fairview Woods Park project was one of many SOLV IT cleanup events throughout Oregon in celebration of Earth Day 2011. Statewide, the combined efforts of 6,889 volunteers accomplished the following:

- Removed 69,338 pounds of mixed waste from neighborhoods and natural areas;
- Recycled 1,718 pounds of plastic, glass, paper and metal;
- Removed invasive, non-native vegetation from approximately 16 acres of land;
- Planted 1,840 native trees and shrubs in parks, on school grounds and in natural areas;
- Collected and recycled 263 tires;

Thank you to our volunteers who gave their time and effort showing their Earth Day spirit at our project site. We couldn't do it without you!

Kids Enjoy Egg Hunt

Another spring tradition occurred when the local Fraternal Order of Eagles (FOE) hosted their 4th annual Easter egg hunt at Fairview

On Your Mark, Get Set, Go!

Community Park on Saturday, April 23rd. The day was one of those rare beautiful ones this spring and the event was well attended.

Thank you to all the FOE volunteers for all their hard work in hosting such a wonderful community event.

Code Corner

It's Garage Sale Season!

Exercise equipment, old sets of golf clubs, collectibles and clothes. This time of year you can see all those items and more at your neighborhood garage sale. Garage sales are a nice way to get a little extra cash in your pocket this time of year, but it's important to make sure your sales are limited, so as not to create a nuisance. Our Municipal Code allows one sale in a calendar year that is no longer than four days in duration.

Here are some friendly reminders about options for advertising your sale including TV, radio, newspaper or lawn signs on your property. Sales signs are not allowed to be installed in the right-of-way, which includes the landscape strip between the sidewalk and curb, street and traffic sign poles and utility poles. You may have a total of 12 square feet of lawn signs and each lawn sign may not exceed 3 square feet in area and 60 inches in height. All posted signs must be removed within 3 days of the sale. No permit or notice to the city is required to hold a garage sale on your property.

If you have any questions about holding a garage sale on your property, please contact Erika Fitzgerald, Code Compliance Coordinator, at 503.674.6242 or by email at fitzgeralde@ci.fairview.or.us. And good luck with your sale!

Police Chief Johnson Testifies for Medal of Ultimate Sacrifice

Award Would Go to Families of Officers Killed in Line of Duty

Fairview Police Chief Ken Johnson recently had the honor of being asked to testify in the Oregon House of Representatives and the Oregon Senate on a bill to create a Medal of Ultimate Sacrifice. Since there is great interest in this award, we thought sharing his testimony would be worthwhile:

“Throughout the history of the great State of Oregon, the gift of liberty has been secured by heroes who have answered the call to serve our communities with dedication and courage. Sadly, some have paid the ultimate sacrifice.

Since January 2011, two Oregon law enforcement officers have given their lives in the service to others. These brave public servants gave unselfishly to make our local communities and our state a safer place to live, work and play. Never far from our minds is the ultimate sacrifice paid by those left behind. We all grieve for their loss and contemplate what we can do to ease their pain.

The Oregon Medal of Ultimate Sacrifice would be presented to the family of a law enforcement officer who dies while in the lawful performance of police duty. The award is intended to recognize the family for their sacrifices- over the years-in support of their loved one's profession.

How fitting it would be to have the Governor, on behalf of a grateful state, present the Medal of Ultimate Sacrifice to the families of a fallen officer.

We would be honoring the fallen for their dedication, compassion and determination and recognizing their families with gratitude and respect- helping to bring closure to a very difficult time.

The creation of the Medal of Ultimate Sacrifice will acknowledge those that have paid the highest price for freedom. And, it will help us to never forget that they will live on forever in our hearts and minds.”

The bills to create such a medal here in Oregon have been approved by both the House of Representatives and Senate and are awaiting the anticipated signature of the Governor. Thank you to Chief Johnson for his leadership in helping to create this recognition program.

US Flag Disposal Receptacle Added

Dropoff Location Ensures Proper Destruction

In celebration of Flag Day on June 14th, the City of Fairview is proud to announce the addition of a new receptacle within the City Hall parking lot where old and torn American flags can be dropped off by residents and businesses. The collection point is a cooperative partnership with local nonprofit organizations such as the Veterans of Foreign War and American Legion to ensure respectful, dignified destruction of outdated flags.

The United States “Flag Code” is found in Title 4 of the United States Code and the section of Title 36 which designates the Star-Spangled Banner as the national anthem and provides instructions on how to display the flag during its rendition. The “Flag Code” includes instruction and rules on such topics as the pledge of allegiance, display and use of the flag by civilians, time and occasions for display, position and manner of display, and how to show respect for the flag. The code specifically states that “the flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.”

“With our strong east winds out here, flags certainly take more of a beating,” stated Joseph Gall, City Administrator. “We are proud to provide a service for citizens and businesses to retire their worn flags respectfully.” The new receptacle is available for free flag drop-offs on a 24/7 basis and is located in the main parking lot of Fairview City Hall located at 1300 NE Village Street in Fairview.

City Website Project Moves Forward

Site Will Launch in September

The project to completely revamp the city website is on schedule with the launch anticipated in early September. With the overall design of the City's new website recently approved, the efforts over the coming summer months will be focused upon content development and staff training.

A team of city staff is working with CivicPlus, a national leader in government website design. CivicPlus develops, designs and manages award-winning community engagement systems that use advanced technology to connect people with government in new, more efficient ways. Founded in 2001 in Manhattan, Kansas, CivicPlus serves more than 800 cities and counties throughout North America with cost-effective website solutions for communities of all sizes.

One of the key changes with the launch of the new website will be a new URL. The city will change from the current www.ci.fairview.or.us to the easier, straightforward www.fairvieworegon.gov upon the launch of the new site. There will be many other exciting new features in the completely overhauled website so make sure to check it out upon launch in September. The next city newsletter will provide additional details about new tools and services available with the new website.

Mark Your Calendars for National Night Out 2011

The Fairview Police Department will host the 5th Annual National Night Out event on Tuesday, August 2, 2011 from 5:30 pm to 8:30 pm at Fairview Community Park. The celebration will include unique demonstrations, emergency vehicles on site for kids to tour, organizations that play a vital role in crime prevention will be present, free food will be available, and much more. Admission is free and all are welcome.

This will be the 28th year since National Night Out began in 1984 - last year, over 37 million people in 15,110 communities in all 50 states, US territories, Canadian cities and military bases worldwide participated in the event. Once again this year, Target is a national corporate sponsor and our local Fairview Target is a strong supporter of our local event.

National Night Out, a year-long community building campaign, is designed to: (1) Heighten crime prevention awareness; (2) Generate support for, and participation in, local anticrime programs; (3) Strengthen neighborhood spirit and police-community partnerships; and (4) Send a message to criminals letting them know that neighborhoods are organized and fighting back. For more information, visit the National Night Out website at www.nationalnightout.org

Awards Ceremony Recognizes Police Officers, Businesses & Individuals

The Fairview Police Department hosted its 2nd annual Awards Ceremony on May 25th in Fairview City Council Chambers. This ceremony recognized citizens, police officers, and other justice professionals for their efforts with the Fairview Police Department's public safety mission. The Police Awards Committee, created by Chief Ken Johnson, once again planned the Awards Banquet. Members of the committee consisted of Fairview citizens Betty Lightfoot and Carol Colleen, and Police Department Officers: Sergeant Bernie Meyer, Officer Billy Epperson, and Detective Brad Robertson. Betty Lightfoot served as the Awards Committee President.

At the Awards Banquet, Fairview Mayor Mike Weatherby read the National Police Week Proclamation, set by President John F. Kennedy in 1962. Masters of Ceremonies duties were shared by Fairview Police Chief Ken Johnson, Officer Billy Epperson, and Detective Brad Robertson. The 2011 Fairview Police Awardees included Distinguished Contribution Award Winners: Multnomah County Deputy District Attorney Brenda Allen, Fairview Municipal Court Judge Patton Echols, Fairview Public Works Supervisors Stephen "BR" Richards and Derrick Yates, and Fairview Police Administrative Assistant Kristi Walls. For her Distinguished Citizen Service, the Fairview Police Awards Committee recognized Fairview Oaks Apartment Manager Cerissa Farrington. Also recognized was Fairview Citizen David Hunt for his selfless act in protecting a two year old boy from harm's way. Officer Jim Keyser received a Meritorious Service Award for his 14 years of service as an investigator on the Major Crimes Team. Chief Ken Johnson recognized with the Awards Committee business owner David Buzzelli, owner of Bella Café, with a Certificate of Appreciation, and City of Fairview Management Intern Jessica Struyk with the Chief's Award for her assistance with the Prescription Drug Turn-In Program.

Multnomah County Sheriff's Deputy Rian Hakala was honored for his Exemplary Performance by the Awards Committee for his response and assistance to Fairview Officer Pooja Singh and her family, including her brother Parik Singh, a Portland Police Officer. Deputy Hakala assisted Officer Pooja Singh and family, when her brother Parik Singh was shot and wounded in the line of duty on March 5th of this year. Last, Officer Billy Epperson and Chief Ken Johnson presented two Police Department Plaques recognizing the Fairview Police Officers of the Year and Officers' Years of Service. These plaques will be displayed in the Police Department to honor those officers recognized.

The Fairview Police Awards Banquet is now an annual event thanks to the support of Fairview City Administrator Joseph Gall and Finance Director Samantha Nelson. The banquet will continue into its third year running in spring 2012.

Meet City Officials at NeighborFairs

These fun community events provide Fairview residents with the opportunity to meet their elected officials and interact with them in a casual and friendly environment. Hot dogs and beverages will be provided and the Mayor and City Councilors will be on hand to talk to you about the City and answer any questions you may have. We have held these summer picnics for a number of years and we always learn about neighborhood issues and concerns that our residents sometimes keep bottled up. For example, we learned about the lack of shade at the play structure in Pelfry Park a few years ago. This important concern was soon remedied with the planting of fast-growing shade trees at the park.

This summer, NeighborFairs will take place on July 27th at 6:00 pm in the park within the Raze Meadows residential development on NE 208th Place near Reynolds Middle School and August 31st at 6:00 pm at Pelfry Park near Fairview Lake.

Blue Lake stocked with a half-ton of trout in May

Blue Lake received some new arrivals in May when 1,500 rainbow trout were added to its current population of trout, bass, bluegill, crappie and catfish. The trout took the 150-mile trip from Leaburg Hatchery, east of Eugene, to Fairview's Blue Lake Regional Park in a giant oxygenated tanker truck carrying thousands of gallons of water. After arriving, they were released into the lake by an Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife employee using a hand net.

The fish were all 8 inches or larger, making them the legal size to catch and eat and making the day for several anglers on the scene. Blue Lake Park will continue to draw crowds this summer as anglers toting bobbers, spinners, worms, fish eggs and powerbait line the pier in the hopes of catching the new stock. The warmer weather will also bring boaters, swimmers, picnickers, nature-lovers and athletes to the park.

Blue Lake will be making a few more additions this summer, including new interpretive signs in the park's Natural Discovery Garden and a new Natural Play Area, made of all-natural materials. This play area is one of several playgrounds throughout the park, including the colorful, action-packed spray ground, adjacent to the swimming beach.

Blue Lake is stocked by the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife, which releases more than 1.2 million fish a year into 96 bodies of water. Anglers may catch and keep up to 5 legal-sized trout per day.

Mothers Day Dance Helps Create Memories

Police, Parks & Recreation Partner on New Event

On Saturday, May 7th, a group of lucky mothers and their sons celebrated Mother's Day with the 1st annual Fairview Police Department/Fairview Parks & Recreation Program sponsored Mother-Son Dance. Each participant received a complimentary photograph from Fairview business, Henry Barbe Photography and enjoyed dancing to upbeat music provided by NW Premier Mobile DJs.

Boys from the ages of 2-12 arrived dressed to impress and showed off their best moves to classics like the "chicken dance," the "limbo"

Why do they call this the Chicken Dance?

How low can you go?

and "YMCA". Attendees feasted on cupcakes, cookies and punch and all received a raffle prize before the night ended. Police Chief Kenneth Johnson attended the event to pass out sticker badges and encourage the boys to cut a rug with their mothers.

The first time event was a great success and we are looking forward to building upon it in years to come. We thank Henry Barbe for donating his time and service to ensure all participants received a wonderful photo to remember this special event. Next year's dance is already being planned. Please contact the Fairview Police Department at 503.674.6200 if you would like to participate in the event.

Investing in Fairview and the East Metro area

by Metro Councilor Shirley Craddick

One of my goals as your Metro Councilor is to do what I can to ensure that Fairview's aspirations come to fruition. This part of the Metro region needs more jobs; good jobs that can support a family. Metro and the City of Fairview are being proactive on this front by partnering with other nearby cities on the East Metro Connections Plan.

This effort will bring governments together to identify important public investment projects and commit to implementing those that advance our prosperity. Agreement on near and long-term investments increases our ability to leverage regional, state and federal funds for our communities.

In your neighborhood, these improvements would help you and your neighbors meet your daily needs. For example, you may see new or safer crosswalks and better traffic flow at intersections. For employers and community developers, a plan with agreement from local jurisdictions that looks out to 2035 provides certainty and incentive for long-term investments.

East Metro Connections Plan will be successful to the degree that it reflects the values and interests of the community it is intended to serve. That means there's an important role for you!

- Visit the project website at www.oregonmetro.gov/eastmetro
- Sign up for email updates by sending a request to trans@oregonmetro.gov
- Request a briefing for your neighborhood association or local event
- Attend a Steering Committee meeting to share your comments
- Participate in public workshops later this year; stay tuned for more information or check the project website

Next steps will include

- Spring 2011 – Identify the problems we need to solve
- Summer 2011 – Develop potential solutions
- Fall 2011 – Evaluate and prioritize solutions
- Winter and Spring 2012 – Agree on local and regional actions to implement solutions

We hope you will become involved and let us know if you have questions, 503.797.1756.

City Abandons Water Well on Shop Property

State Requires Abandonment

The Public Works Department recently wrapped up the Well #3 abandonment project. Well #3 is located on the Public Works Shop property on First Street. With the recent drilling of the new Well #9 at this same property, the State of Oregon required the abandonment of Well #3.

The project consisted of first demolishing the structure that housed the controls and piping for the old well. Our private contractor, Schneider Well Drilling, then drilled and pumped out about 130 feet of sand and fine gravel that had gathered in the bottom of the well.

The well drillers then cut perforations in the 10 inch casing that went down to a depth of 800 feet. The perforations helped to lock grout in place and filled the entire casing up to 6 feet below ground level. This process sealed off the aquifer below from any potential surface contamination and made the area around the old well safe.

Red Light Camera Program Moves Forward

In a close 4-3 vote on May 4, 2011, the Fairview City Council approved Resolution 23-2011 which moves forward developing a photo red light program in Fairview. After an extensive public outreach program, the Council authorized the City Administrator to negotiate a contract with Redflex Traffic Systems. After negotiating the contract, the City Council will take a final vote on whether to sign a contract with the company at the August 17th meeting.

Although the proposed contract could include up to eight intersections, the first planned intersection for the camera system is Fairview Parkway and Halsey Street. If Council approves a contract in August, the camera equipment is expected to be installed before January 2012. This date could change dependent upon approval processes from Multnomah County which has jurisdiction over both streets.

In response to what appeared to be a growing disrespect for traffic laws in general and disobeying red traffic signal indications in particular, the Oregon State Legislature enacted a law in 1999 to help communities effectively enforce and reduce red light running. This law has been revised and expanded several times by the legislature with the last major revision in 2007. Since the introduction of this technology, a growing list of cities in the state are choosing to utilize photo enforcement to address the problem of red light running within their particular communities.

The goal of the new program is to alter the behavior of drivers, and by lessening the incidents of red light running, improve the safety of our community streets. If City Council approves signing the contract in August, Fairview would be the second city in Multnomah County to initiate a red light camera program. For more information, contact the City Administrator's office at 503.665.7929.

Coyotes Are Here in Fairview

During the past few months, concern over coyote sightings in Fairview has increased with numerous calls into City Hall. As a result, the following information is from the Audubon Society of Portland about living with urban coyotes. It has been edited for space, but more information is available at their website at www.audubonportland.org.

Coyotes (Canis latrans) are a member of the dog family. This highly adaptive species was originally considered native only to the western two thirds of the United States, but landscape alterations and the elimination of large predators have allowed it to expand its range throughout North America. Until the 1940s coyotes in Oregon were considered somewhat rare west of the Cascades. Thick dense fur can sometimes make coyotes appear larger than they really are. In Oregon, coyotes typically weigh between 22 and 30 pounds. Their primary diet is made up of small rodents, but coyotes are opportunistic and will consume a vast array of foods including birds and insects, fruit and vegetables, human garbage and compost, outdoor pet food and small free-roaming pets. Coyotes are monogamous and can found as lone individuals, pairs or can develop packs similar to wolves. Typically only the dominant pair breeds and produces one litter per year.

Breeding occurs between January and March with a gestation period of 62 days. Litters range from 4-7 pups and young will remain with the parents until late summer learning how to hunt. Coyotes are at home in a variety of habitat types and will den in burrows, under downed trees, in thick brambles and culverts. While coyotes are most active between dusk and dawn, they can be seen at any time of the day. Generally shy and wary of humans, they can also be quite curious and will often observe human activity from what they perceive to be a safe distance. They will protect active dens from predators including other coyotes and dogs. Despite widespread efforts to reduce coyote populations, coyotes have managed to survive and thrive in and among human populations.

While most frequently sighted near natural areas, coyotes have also been seen deep into the urban interior. By providing accessible garbage cans, compost bins, outdoor pet bowls and free-roaming pets, humans have inadvertently promoted urban coyote populations. Unless habituated to humans, coyotes are generally shy and wary and present a minimal risk to humans. Coyotes are opportunistic and will prey upon free roaming cats and small dogs. The best prevention is to keep pets under control either indoors, on a leash or within a fenced yard. To reducing potential for Human-Coyote Conflicts:

- Never deliberately feed a coyote or other wild mammal.
- Securely cover garbage cans and compost bins and remove fallen fruit from yards.
- Eliminate opportunities for rats to breed in and around your yard.
- Never deliberately approach a coyote and teach children to respect all wildlife from a distance.
- Keep house pets indoors and allow only controlled access to the outdoors (fenced yards and leashes). Always keep pets in from dusk to dawn when coyotes are most active.
- To prevent coyotes from entering your yard consider removing unnecessary brush, installing a motion-sensitive lighting system, or installing a coyote proof fence. To be effective fences must be at least six feet tall, have no openings greater than four inches and should extend flush with the ground.
- If you do not want coyotes around your home, let them know that they are not welcome. If you see a coyote, shout and make noise, wave your arms.

Water Wisely During Summer Months

The days are finally becoming warmer and as our weather heats up for another northwest summer, more people will be outdoors enjoying the sunshine. Whether the days are spent doing yard work, maintaining your home, washing the car or just playing in the water to cool off, we all need to remember that how we use our water effects more than just us directly.

This summer the Regional Water Providers Consortium, which includes the City of Fairview, will be running a radio advertisement encouraging you to “Turn it Down”. Of course they are referring to how much water you are using on your landscape. By turning the water down and keeping an eye on the amount and how you use outdoor water, not only will you be helping with water conservation but you will also be helping to keep our rivers and streams clean of pollutants.

How many times have you seen water from a sprinkler running off a landscape onto the sidewalk, driveway and street? Have you ever thought to yourself, wow, that’s a lot of water wasted. Not only is the water being wasted, it is picking up garbage from people littering, chemicals and bacteria from landscapes, and oils from cars as it flows into the nearby storm drain which takes the water along with all those pollutants it just picked up and flows directly into our local streams untreated.

Here are a few simple ways to keep excess water out of our storm system while conserving water this summer;

- Timing is everything – if you have a sprinkler system be sure it’s set before 10:00 am and after 6:00 pm.
- Adjust your schedule – if you notice that the water is beginning to stand in your landscape instead of soaking into the ground take a day off from watering or adjust the amount of time you are watering.
- Set a timer – use a hose timer or the kitchen timer so you won’t forget that the sprinkler is going.
- Water while you play – let the kids cool off on those hot vacation days by running through the sprinkler in an area of the lawn that is in need of watering, periodically move the sprinkler to keep from over watering one area.
- Use a commercial car wash – instead of washing your vehicle in the driveway, take a trip to a local car wash that treats or recycles the waste water. If you really want to wash the car yourself and it’s possible, wash it on the lawn.

By limiting your water use outdoors you’re helping to conserve a very precious resource, while at the same time protecting our streams.

Phone Tree System Launched at City Hall

Due to the reduction in staff within City Hall, the City of Fairview is developing a new phone tree system that will be initiated this month. Similar to many businesses, we will be utilizing the built-in technology that already exists within our current phone system.

As we designed and tested the new phone tree system, we have been careful to ensure that our residents, businesses and other customers can quickly and easily reach a live person during regular business hours. None of the existing phone numbers will be changing and the main phone number remains 503.665.7929. The new city website that will launch in September will feature a number of new methods of contacting staff within your local government, in addition to the regular phone system.

Mayor Weatherby Chosen For Economic Development Board

Although Fairview is a small city within the larger metro area, we have been actively involved with regional economic development efforts. Mayor Weatherby was recently recognized for our regional leadership by being named to the board for the regional Economic Development District (EDD). Designated by the US Department of Commerce’s Economic Development Administration to be our region’s public/private economic development district, the Portland-Vancouver Economic Development District (EDD) works collaboratively throughout the Portland metropolitan area and southwest Washington to promote and support communities and businesses.

The EDD operates regionally in both states to forge strategies, solutions, and partnerships that achieve clear, quantifiable and tangible business development results, most of which would not have been feasible for a single local jurisdiction to implement. Governed by a board of directors, the EDD coordinates a variety of regional economic development programs and projects in conjunction with more than two dozen local governments while also ensuring close coordination with these same local governments on programs and projects managed by organizations other than the EDD. These include:

- The region’s comprehensive economic development strategy
- Business retention and expansion
- Business recruitment
- Workforce development
- Export strategy plan
- Economic gardening
- Entrepreneurial and business development
- Energy conservation and renewable energy resources
- Small business development finance

Consistent with federal law, a majority of EDD board members are elected officials and/or employees of local government. Representatives of private businesses, chambers of commerce, higher education, work force development and labor groups are also included on the board. Appointed in May 2011 by the Greater Portland Inc. Board of Directors, the Economic Development District board members include:

- Erik Andersson, Pacific Power
- Bernie Bottomly, Portland Business Alliance
- Chair Jeff Cogen, Multnomah County
- Erin Flynn, Portland State University
- Council President Tom Hughes, Metro
- Jeff King, City of Forest Grove
- Andrew McGough, Worksystems, Inc.
- John Mohlis, Oregon State Building and Construction Trades Council
- Mayor Mike Weatherby, City of Fairview

Greater Portland Inc, is a regional public/private organization focused on increased vitality of the Portland-Vancouver region through economic development. The organization pursues business growth and development through recruitment and retention programs implemented collaboratively through private and public resources. City Benefits from Various Internship Programs

Local Governments Face Impending Crisis Attracting Next Generation

Both the private and public sectors are beginning to experience the oncoming wave of baby boomer retirement. According to recent statistics, 80 million boomers (born between 1946 and 1964) will be retiring from full-time employment in the U.S. economy during the next two decades. As these boomers progress toward travel and free time, it is estimated that only 50 million GenXers (born between 1965 and 1981) are available to replace them. Because of the success many baby boomers have achieved by the time they exit their careers, the largest talent replacement gaps for private and public sectors will likely be in key managerial, professional and administrative positions.

The local government management profession is certainly approaching a crossroads as baby boomers that comprise the majority of local government managers approach retirement at a quickening pace, and statistics indicate that the greatest numbers of retirees will come from the managerial ranks. The problem is that a much smaller group of young and career changing professionals are in line and prepared to fill their shoes. There just aren't enough people.

The City of Fairview recognizes this challenge and has promoted opportunities over the past few years with high school, college and graduate students in internship and work experience programs. The benefits of our internship program are numerous and include:

- Our interns have brought fresh ideas, new perspectives and enthusiasm to our work place;
- City staff has gained cost-effective assistance on important projects;
- City staff gets the opportunity to mentor and develop future leaders; and
- Our interns have served as a liaison between the City and various educational institutions.

Like many cities with internship programs, we strive to give an insider's view into management level work within a local government organization.

This summer, we are joined by a number of talented young people who are gaining experience and knowledge within our organization. The first is Jessica Struyk, a graduate student in the Masters of Public Administration program at Portland State University.

Graduate Student Jessica Struyk

With the career goal of eventually becoming a City Manager, Jessica is half-way through her graduate program. Since she lives here in East County, she was looking for opportunities with eastside communities and we were lucky to provide such opportunity. Besides learning about the daily adventures of local government, she has already worked on a number of individual projects such as the prescription drug box program, the Mothers and Fathers Day dances, and the strategic planning initiative for the city.

Jared Maricle is our second intern who joined us in mid-June. Jared is a fourth-year student at Drury University in Springfield, Missouri. Currently working toward a Bachelors degree in Business Administration with an economics emphasis, he hopes to extend his studies into graduate school for economics. Jared is an Oregon native who is a member of the nationally ranked Drury University Swimming and Diving team. Drury holds the national title in each of the past three years in mens and womens swimming at the Division II intercollegiate level. As part of his undergraduate program, Jared has the requirement to gain a work experience before graduation and we are lucky that he chose the City of Fairview for his experience.

Finally, we are happy to have three students join us from the Cascade Academy Foundation Student Internship Program at Reynolds High School. As in previous summers, our Finance Department provides a great opportunity for High School students to apply the skills and curriculum learned in the classroom to real world situations. The three students are Nicholas Jay, Laura Doroteo and Julianne Nguyen and all are going to be seniors in the fall.

Our organization is strengthened in many ways during the summer months with the addition of these talented young people and we hope their experiences are educational and productive. And if you see them around City Hall or community events over the upcoming months, make sure to stop and say hello to them.

Budget Adopted by City Council

City Administrator Cuts Positions in Administration & Finance Departments

After budget hearings and deliberations over the past few months, the Fairview City Council adopted the FY2011-12 budget for the city in early June. While the Budget Committee made some minor additions back into the budget, the major change from the proposed budget was not funding the addition of another police officer to the Fairview Police Department as originally proposed by the City Administrator. The committee supported the need for the additional officer, but did not believe it was fiscally prudent to utilize the proposed $369,000 in financial reserves to balance the budget. The approved budget for the General Fund now utilizes $289,000 out of the projected ending fund balance of $3.4 million for next fiscal year.

"While I am disappointed to be unable to fund the additional officer as we all want," stated Mayor Mike Weatherby, "the timing was just not right when we are still feeling the financial effects of this recent economic recession." In addition to adopting the budget, the City Council members directed the City's management staff to expedite their commitment to close the gap and eliminate the need for use of reserves, including making potential cuts in city personnel.

As a result of this direction, effective July 1, 2011, City Administrator Joseph Gall eliminated 2.0 positions out of the staff of 37.5 FTE's. The Executive Assistant position within the Administration Department and a Utility Billing Clerk position within the Finance Department were eliminated in the cuts. This reduction in personnel will result in reducing the budgeted $289,000 financial reserves out of the General Fund down by $91,831. "Our management team will continue over the coming months to find additional savings to address this financial gap, including possible additional cuts in staffing levels" stated Gall. "The challenge of doing more with less continues for the foreseeable future."

For more information about the budget, please contact Samantha Nelson, Finance Director at 503.674.6221 or by email at nelsons@ci.fairview.or.us

Keeping It Local

There are many well documented benefits to our communities and to each of us to choosing local, independently owned businesses. We realize it is not always possible to buy what you need locally and so we merely ask you to Try Local First. Here are 10 Reasons to Try Local First

1. Significantly more money continues to circulate in the local area when purchases are made locally. More money stays in the local economy because businesses in our area often purchase from other local businesses, service providers and farms.

2. Nonprofit organizations receive an average of three times greater support from smaller, locally owned businesses than they do from large businesses. They in turn are able to improve the quality of life for residents in our community.

3. Keep our community unique: Where we shop, where we eat and have fun – all of it makes our community home. Our one-of-a-kind businesses are an integral part of the distinctive character of our area.

4. Reduce the impact on our environment. Businesses in our local area generally use local suppliers, requiring less transportation. This means less contribution to congestion, habitat loss and pollution.

5. Most new jobs are provided by local businesses. Small, local businesses are the largest employers nationally as well as in our community providing the most new jobs to our residents.

6. Most businesses in our area are owned by people who live in our community. They are more likely to be invested in our community.

7. Local businesses often hire people with a better understanding of the products they are selling, take more time to get to know customers and provide better customer service.

8. Public benefits far outweigh public costs. Local businesses in town require comparatively less infrastructure investment and make more efficient use of public services.

9. A marketplace of thousands of diverse businesses is the best way to ensure innovation and low prices over the long-term.

10. When our dollars are kept locally, it increase the amount of taxes collected that our police, fire and public services need to perform their function. Safer communities happen when we spend locally.

Fairview Ranked 5th in Diversity in Metro Area

As the 2010 census data continues to be released, so do additional details about Fairview's population. One of the more interesting rankings is that the City of Fairview is within the top five jurisdictions in the metro Portland region in terms of racial/ethnic diversity. Out of twenty-five jurisdictions, Fairview is ranked as the fifth most diverse community behind Wood Village, Cornelius, Hillsboro, and Beaverton. An interesting fact that may be surprising to some people, Portland is rated as the eighth-most diverse city in the region. The least diverse cities within the region include Rivergrove, Damascus, West Linn and Lake Oswego.

Fairview's official population from the 2010 census is 8,920 residents with 73.1% of our population listed as white, 4.6% Black or African American, 1.1% American Indian or Alaska Native, 5.5% Asian, 1% Native Hawaiian and other Pacific Islander, and 16.4% Hispanic or Latino. 5% of our population indicated two or more categories as part of the census. Census data will continue to be released by the Census Bureau over the coming year.

EMEA Gains Membership

Fairview Partners with Nonprofit

Economic development continues to be a major focus activity of the City of Fairview, but we certainly realize that our community is part of a larger East Multnomah County area and that we need to partner with our neighboring communities to achieve success. One way that our city participates regionally is by actively participating as a proud member of the East Metro Economic Alliance (EMEA). EMEA helps to shape the future of East Metro through economic advocacy by bringing together business and government leaders from East Portland, Fairview, Gresham, Troutdale, and Wood Village, EMEA builds consensus and promotes action on issues vital to the economic development and livability of the region.

EMEA is a non-profit organization comprised of approximately forty area businesses, chambers of commerce, and public agencies working together to shape the future of East Metro through economic advocacy. Membership meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month and feature presentations from guest speakers on current issues affecting our region. The meetings, which include a catered lunch, start at 11:30 a.m. in the Council Chambers of Fairview City Hall. On July 14th, the keynote speakers will be a panel of East County Police Chiefs and Multnomah County Undersheriff. Come hear Police Chiefs Anderson, Johnson and Junginger along with Multnomah County Undersheriff Moore discuss highlights of public safety in East County and the connection they see with successful economic development.

EMEA has identified the following core initiatives as essential to achieving its mission:

- Columbia-Cascade River District - Redevelop the Eastern Columbia Corridor based on a united economic vision.
- Government & Business Relations - Educate local and state governments about ways to become more supportive of the business community and create a truly business-friendly environment.
- Education & Workforce Development - Build synergy between industry and education to produce a well-trained workforce prepared to meet the needs of businesses today and in the future.
- Springwater Development - Create a new economy for East Metro that integrates sustainable family-wage jobs and educational resources in a vibrant new economic community.
- Organizational Development - Provide EMEA with structure, vision, and leadership.

With membership within EMEA growing, the organization has recently launched a revamped and enhanced website located at www.eastmetro-alliance.org. In addition to the City of Fairview, a number of Fairview businesses are members including FT Material Solutions, NACCO Materials Handling Group, Navistar, USS Ranger Foundation and Proforma Prosource Marketing Group. If you are a business owner in Fairview, we invite you to get involved with EMEA as a member. Together, we can make the east side the best side of the Portland region!

Community Blood Drive

As part of National Night Out, the City of Fairview will be hosting a community blood drive at City Hall on Tuesday, August 2nd from 3:00 to 8:00 p.m. Whether you have never given blood or have been a regular donor, the City encourages you to participate! Every 2 seconds someone in the United States needs blood. That's a lot of blood! But only 5% of the eligible US population donates blood in any given year. Healthy donors are the only source of blood. Currently, there is no substitute.

It is easy to register. Just go to www.givelife.org and search by our zip code of 97024. The site has lots of useful information regarding first time donors and the process of donating in general. You may also register by calling Anastasia Olvera at the City at 503.674.6210.
