Fairview Receives Financial Certificate of Achievement

For the very first time in the city's history, the City of Fairview was awarded the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting by the Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA) for its comprehensive annual financial report (CAFR). The Certificate of Achievement is the highest form of recognition in governmental accounting and financial reporting and the certificate represents a significant accomplishment by a government and its management.

"I am very proud of Samantha Landau, our Finance Director and her talented staff who worked hard to achieve this international recognition," states Joseph Gall, City Administrator for Fairview. "In the most current year available, only 33 of 242 Oregon cities and towns achieved this accomplishment." The CAFR has been judged by an impartial panel to meet high program standards including demonstrating a constructive "spirit of full disclosure" to clearly communicate its financial story and motivate potential users and user groups to read the CAFR.

The GFOA is a nonprofit professional association serving approximately 17,500 government finance professionals with offices in Chicago, Illinois and Washington, D.C.

Officer Bill Wood Retires

On October 15, 2009, one of the long-term veterans of the Fairview Police Department, Officer Bill Wood retired after twenty years of service. When Officer Wood started as a police officer in 1989, our city had a population of approximately 1600 people and a department of 2 members. As he retires, Fairview is slightly under 10,000 people with a department of 14 commissioned officers and 3 reserve officers. Yes, Officer Wood has seen a lot of change over the years and has many positive memories from throughout his career. "One of the greatest highlights of my career has been to watch the city grow and change and to see the Police Department evolve over time" Officer Wood said.

Fairview Police Officer Bill Wood recently retired after twenty years of service.

Bill plans on enjoying his retirement days by continuing to teach for the Department of Public Safety Standards and Training (the Police Academy) and working on his own business. Bill also plans on touring the country on his Gold Wing motorcycle. A reception in Officer Wood's honor was held on October 13 in City Hall Council Chambers. In addition, Woods received recognition for his service to our community at the October 21, 2009 City Council meeting.

City Council Welcomes New Member

In late August, the Fairview City Council appointed lifelong resident Dan Kreamier to fill City Council Position 1, left vacant by a July resignation. Kreamier, 39, is the branch manager of the Oregon First Community Credit Union in Fairview and owner of Dan's Fishin' Mission Adventures. He's served on the budget committee since last spring and said the bank has been heavily involved in city events for years. Kreamier said he plans to bring "some financial background and experience to the Council." Mayor Mike Weatherby said Kreamier's heavy involvement in the City and personal knowledge of how the City functions were what set him apart from the pack. "I hope he'll provide a different and unique perspective that will bring in new knowledge and a wealth of ability," Weatherby said.

Last November, Kreamier staged an unsuccessful campaign to win Position 2 on the City Council. Reigning Councilor Barb Jones won, defeating Kreamier, former Councilor Darrell Cornelius and Donn Tuttle. Mayor Weatherby was impressed by all three candidates who applied. "It's great to have so many qualified people to pick from," he said.

Councilor Balwant Bhullar announced his resignation from the City Council in early July. He cited health concerns and obligations to his two businesses as the primary reasons for resigning. Councilor Kreamier will serve the remainder of former Councilor Bhullar's term which ends in December 2012.

From the Desk of

Mayor
Mike Weatherby

Fall has returned and warm days and vacations are pretty much over. It has been a busy summer including my quarterly roundtable meetings with our local businesses. So far this year, I have held three meetings with both a good representation of Fairview's business leaders in attendance and positive feedback on the discussion topics. Our next roundtable is scheduled for Wednesday, December 9 during the lunch period.

Another opportunity to hear from citizens is my informal Meet the Mayor meetings held throughout the city. These are held at neighborhood locations, such as Quail Hollow and Fairview Terrace, where there are common meeting areas. This gives me the opportunity to meet with local residents to talk about issues that are of concern and answer questions. Our City Administrator typically attends, and we bring light snacks and soda. Often one of our Police Officers will also be there to discuss public safety issues. I thoroughly enjoy and look forward to these opportunities to meet and connect with our residents. If you and some of your neighbors would like to host such an event, please contact us at 503.674.6224.

I hope that you all were able to attend the Chili on the Green festival, and that you had a great time. An important component of events like these is our volunteers. Volunteers are the heart of our community and are an important factor in the quality of life in our city. I would like to invite you to volunteer and become a part of our city events and activities.

Chief's Corner

by Chief Ken Johnson

On Saturday, August 1, 2009 fans at the Portland International Raceway (PIR) experienced something a little different when three East County Police Chiefs competed in a drag race fund-raiser for Beat the Heat Oregon. The event was held to raise money for the Krystal Pomante scholarship fund. The fund is named after 11 year old Krystal who was killed in an auto accident while riding as a passenger when the driver decided to street drag race.

Beat the Heat was created to educate kids and adults about the dangers of illegal street drag racing and to promote legal racing at PIR. The three East County Police Chiefs lent support to bolster this very important message.

Fairview Police Chief Ken Johnson, driving a Dodge Charger, took first place beating out second place Troutdale Chief Scott Anderson and third place Gresham Chief Craig Junginger. "It was a great night of interacting with kids and adults and promoting safe driving and improved relationships between police and the public. It really was community policing at its finest," stated Fairview Police Chief Ken Johnson. "I also enjoyed kicking their rear ends in the race. Especially because it was all for a good cause."

Fairview to Contract with Gresham for Code Compliance Services

This fall the City of Fairview will begin contracting with the City of Gresham for code compliance services. Emphasizing their desire for a stronger code compliance program, the Fairview City Council worked with the Budget Committee to allocate $20,000 for enhanced code compliance services.

Under the new contract, City of Gresham staff will assist Fairview staff with code compliance for 5 to 10 hours a week. This additional time will double the current code compliance capacity. City staff is looking forward to working closely with our neighbors in Gresham to provide professional and high quality code compliance services to Fairview residents.

Code Compliance Brochures Now Available

The City of Fairview is excited to introduce the new code compliance brochure series. The brochure series was created in response to feedback received from the neighborhood nuisance survey completed in 2008. Residents were asked "What would you like to see the City of Fairview do to alleviate nuisances?" 93% of respondents answered that they wanted the City to provide more information to residents about nuisances and how to resolve them.

The brochures provide valuable information about City rules regarding common nuisances including solid waste, graffiti, and overgrown vegetation. They also provide information on resources for correcting and reporting violations to the City.

The series includes brochures on Residential Property Maintenance, Residential Vehicle Storage and Maintenance, Solid Waste and Discarded Vehicles on Residential Property, and Prevention and Removal of Graffiti on City and Residential Property.

The brochures are available at City Hall, online at the City of Fairview website, and at all community events. Please contact the Code Compliance Coordinator with any questions or to report a code violation at 503.674.6242.

Council Corner

by City Councilor Ken Quinby

Greetings Fairview residents!

I hope everyone enjoyed our beautiful summer. Before it gets too cold & rainy, it's a good time to get outside, walk your neighborhood & say hello to those you don't know & renew friendships with those you only see in the nice weather. One thing I believe is important is networking and communicating for the health of your neighborhood. Knowing your neighbors, their children & their pets assists in keeping your community safer. With the current economy, our law enforcement resources are diminishing & what's left is spread thin.

If you attended the National Night Out event either of the last two years, you will remember the exciting presentations with Thor, the police dog. Sadly, due to budget cuts, we were forced to end the K9 program. Overall, the recently passed budget is 25% less than the previous year. That's how deep the city's resources have been affected. We can only hope for a turn-around soon. Meantime, more and more, the average citizen needs to be aware & take responsibility for neighborhood awareness. Most important when being vigilant is to stay safe! One wag recently quipped that "Calling 911 gets a response just in time to draw a chalk line". Everyone working together can assist in preventing chalk lines from being needed as well as preventing car prowls & burglaries.

Along these lines, I'd like to remind all citizens that every single individual can be heard, not just among the Mayor & Council members, but "City Hall" will listen too. Changes for the better can never happen unless you start with an action. At times, even small, local governments can seem to move slowly, but I have witnessed plenty of change for the better in my years of involvement in Fairview. I got myself on the City Council because I like to see government work properly for the people. That's what it was instituted for so don't be shy! That's what our former City Councilor Balwant Bhullar did. He was instrumental in a significant portion of the K9 program costs & eventually was elected to office. Sadly, he was forced to resign after only 6 months & will be missed, but it's a testimony to making a difference for your city. You too can be a part of making a difference.

Is there a Street Light Out in Your Neighborhood?

With the earlier sunsets, have you noticed that there is a street light out in your neighborhood, or one that flickers or even stays on during the day? It is simple to report these situations to Portland General Electric (PGE) for quick repair. There are three methods available to report street light problems:

- Visit the PGE website at www.portlandgeneral.com and search for "street light outage"
- Email information to lightout@pgn.com
- Call 1.800.544.1795 and press "3."

In all methods, you will need the information from the street light pole. On each pole there is a small round metal tag with a pole and map number. This information, along with the adjacent home address, will allow PGE crews to find and repair the problem.

Where is Police Activity in Fairview?

New Online Service Puts Police Activities at Your Fingertips

Have you ever seen police activity in your neighborhood or on the way to work and wondered, “what was going on”? Thanks to a generous donation by the Fairview/Troutdale Fraternal Order of Eagles (4515), residents can now access a free website that will provide basic information about local police activity. CrimeReports.com was launched here in Fairview on August 1, 2009. CrimeReports.com provides law enforcement agencies with an affordable and easy-to-use

Web-based service for managing and controlling the sharing of crime data with the public. Community members can access their neighborhood crime information for free, empowering them to make informed decisions to help improve the safety of their families, friends, property and the community at large.

Participating law enforcement agencies have ultimate control over the data they report publicly through CrimeReports.com. In most cases, CrimeReports.com integrates with an agency’s Computer Aided Dispatch and Records Management Systems. Fairview’s data is provided through a link with the Portland Bureau of Emergency Communications (BOEC).

The Fairview Police Department will allow public access into 15 general crime type categories and 21 subcategories of crime and calls for service activity. We remove victim identification as part of the data publishing process. In addition, we help protect victim identities by converting the exact street addresses to the “block level”. For example, the address “1486 Lincoln Avenue” would be mapped and displayed as “1400 block of Lincoln Ave”.

Access to such critical information helps community members understand their surroundings and make informed decisions to protect themselves. While it is too early to determine whether CrimeReports.com actually reduces crime, it helps raise awareness and create stronger community policing programs that improve the connection between law enforcement and the public. Community members can visit www.CrimeReports.com directly or through links on the City’s website at any time to view crime incident reports for any participating jurisdiction. Community members can also sign up to receive daily, weekly or monthly email alerts regarding criminal activity and police dispatch calls for service in their neighborhoods.

In addition to Fairview, adjacent cities such as Gresham, Troutdale and Portland utilize this service, allowing users to access criminal activity and police dispatch calls for service in adjacent communities. As a result, residents can compare police activity within Fairview neighborhoods to other parts of East Multnomah County.

Fairview Police Chief Ken Johnson is quite excited about this new service for the community. “Community policing is about partnering with our community to solve problems and make our community safer. A key to any good partnership is communication. CrimeReports.com will improve our ability to communicate with citizens about crime and police activity in their neighborhoods or places of business. I believe it will help empower our citizens and is an important component of our renewed initiative to improve our community policing efforts in Fairview.”

Police Department Welcomes New Officer

The Fairview Police Department is pleased to welcome our newest member, Joe Kaiser. Officer Kaiser is married and has three children and two grandchildren. He transferred from the Turner, Oregon Police Department where he served as a patrol officer for the past five years.

Officer Kaiser has two years of college education and possesses the Intermediate and Advanced Police Officer Certifications issued by the Department of Public Safety Standards and Training. In addition, he is a certified instructor in explosive recognition and a certified Field Training Officer.

During his five years in Turner, he was in charge of the property and evidence room and was responsible for all evidence seized and retained by the department. We have already discussed using his expertise in this field here in Fairview.

Joe is looking forward to the challenges a larger agency will bring and the diversity in calls inherent in a metro area. “Joe is a welcome addition to our department and is a great believer in community policing,” stated Fairview Police Chief Ken Johnson.

Police Department Seeks Awards Committee Members

The Fairview Police Department has developed a new awards program that will honor officers and citizens for extraordinary efforts and lifesaving actions. The administration of the program is accomplished through an awards committee. One of the positions on the awards committee is a Fairview resident appointed by the Chief of Police.

We are seeking Fairview residents interested in serving on the Fairview Police Department Awards Committee. There will be a couple of organizational meetings to get the program started. After that, there should only be one or two meetings per year.

If you are interested in serving on this committee, please send a letter of interest to: Fairview Police Department, Attention: Chief Ken Johnson, PO Box 337, Fairview, OR 97024. For more information, please call 503.674.6200.

Thanksgiving Blood Drive at City Hall

Fairview will be hosting a blood drive at City Hall on November 23 from 2:00 to 7:00 p.m. Whether you have never given blood or have been a regular donor, the City encourages you to participate! Every 2 seconds someone in the United States needs blood. That’s a lot of blood! But only 5% of the eligible US population donates blood in any given year. Healthy donors are the only source of blood. Currently, there is no substitute. Blood is needed for emergencies and for people who have cancer, blood disorders, sickle cell, anemia and other illnesses. Some people need regular blood transfusions to live. For nearly 5 million people who receive blood transfusions every year, your donation can make the difference between life and death. You will even get free juice and cookies!

It is easy to register. Just go to www.givelife.org and use our sponsor code: fairview. The site has lots of useful information regarding first time donors and the process of donating in general. You may also register by calling the City at 503.674.6224.

New Thrift Store Supports Seniors

Suits and coats for $3, shirts and pants priced at $2, pairs of shoes for $2: Shoppers can't beat the prices at the YWCA Thrift Store in downtown Gresham. And the better the prices, the more goods the shop can sell to help East Multnomah County's elderly residents. YWCA East County Senior Services opened the thrift store in June to raise money for senior programs in East County. Located in the Multnomah County East Building, the volunteer-run shop grew out of the leftovers from a Loaves & Fishes rummage sale held last April.

"After the sale, we had items we didn't know what to do with," said Rebecca Baker, a member of the Loaves & Fishes advisory board who worked on the rummage sale. Baker, who's also a case manager with YWCA Senior Services, came up with the idea to open a thrift store as a way to raise more money for senior programs. Baker and store volunteer Vickie Gastelum credit Pam Danily with kick-starting the store inventory by cleaning out her house and donating items. Since then, news of the store has spread mostly by word of mouth, drawing more donations. Gastelum is a member of P.E.O. (Philanthropic Educational Organization), which has donated to the store. Local businesses also have pitched in, providing apparel, hangers and fixtures.

The store carries clothing and accessories for men, women and children (mostly for women so far) as well as household items, dishes, crafts, school supplies, books, games, toys and a few antiques, Baker said. "Costume jewelry really seems to sell," she added. The tiny store, which occupies an area that was once the information and assistance room for YWCA Senior Services, doesn't have space to carry furniture. One set of furniture was sold after a photo of it was posted at the store, Baker said. In the future she hopes the store will be able to rent more room in the building, "but there's no money for that now."

The store tries to keep prices low to meet the needs of shoppers who might be struggling in the poor economy, Baker said. Gresham residents Tina Turner and Grace Hansen paid their first visit to the store in mid-August. Turner, who cares for foster children, spent a total of $7 for four compact disks, a book for girls, an organizer book, a small toy, curtains and "a curtain rod I couldn't find anywhere else," she said. "Will we come back? Yes," Turner added.

The store was open just two days a week at first, but demand increased hours to five days a week. It draws 50 to 75 customers a day, averaging about 1,800 customers a month, Baker estimated. Recent volunteer staff included Laura Sullivan and Lauren Fifield, summer interns from Mt. Hood Community College's Steps to Success program. The store hopes to enlist more college interns this fall, Baker said. "We welcome more volunteers, and we love donations and can offer tax receipts," she said. They appreciate it if people can bring donations to the store, but if they cannot, "we can arrange to pick them up," Baker said.

The YWCA Thrift Store is located in the Multnomah County East Building, 600 N.E. Eighth St. The hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. To donate or volunteer, call Rebecca Baker at 503.988.3840, Ext. 29188. (Article reprinted with permission from BOOM! Boomers & Beyond, September 2009, By Janie Nafsinger.)

MHCC Theatre Presents Children's Production

The Mt. Hood Community College (MHCC) Theatre department's first production of the season, "The Emperor's Dragon," is a children's production that even adults will enjoy. This tall tale takes place in ancient feudal Japan and tells the story of Torao, an orphan who is determined to return the Emperor's baby dragon to its mother on Mt. Fuji. But first, Torao must escape the clutches of his demented uncle and the greatest Shogun in all of Japan.

"The Emperor's Dragon" will be performed for school groups on various dates in November. School groups may make reservations with the MHCC Performing Arts Box Office at 503.491.7154, ext. 1. Early registration is encouraged, as seating is limited and performances have been sold out in previous years. Teachers should collect the entrance fee from their students and pay at the door on the day of performance. However, no one will be turned away because of inability to pay.

A performance for the general public will be held Saturday, November 21, 2009 at 2 p.m.; no reservations needed. All performances will be in the MHCC Theatre on the Gresham Campus. Tickets are $2 per person for all performances. For more information, call the Performing Arts department at 503.491.6969.

Residents Encouraged To Subscribe to FlashAlert

With the approach of the winter season, the City of Fairview would like to remind residents that you can subscribe to a free service called FlashAlert. This system provides emergency messages, such as breaking news or weather closure information, along with news releases from participating organizations. The City of Fairview, along with all of the other cities in East Multnomah County and the Reynolds School District, utilize this important communication service. The service is free and residents can sign up by going to the FlashAlert website at www.flashalert.net. When you get to the homepage, click on Portland since many cities around the northwest utilize this service.

Mt. Hood Community College Celebrates Academic Excellence

There is celebration at Mt. Hood Community College (MHCC), as 100 percent of students from the Nursing program passed the national exam, joining three other Allied Health programs at MHCC that consistently have 100 percent pass rates. For the first time in 10 years, all 38 Nursing students passed the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses.

Once again, 18 Respiratory Care students passed the National Board for Respiratory Care, Entry Level Certification Examination. So did the students in the Surgical Technology program, who all passed the National Examination for the Certified Surgical Technologist. For over 17 years, all Dental Hygiene students have passed the National Board Dental Hygiene Exam, again achieving a 100 percent pass rate this year.

These phenomenal results illustrate the high level of instruction in the Allied Health programs. "Our faculty work with students to make sure they will be successful," said Donna Larson, dean of Allied Health. "Some of our faculty has 20 to 30 years of experience in the field; they bring real-life scenarios to their instruction."

For more information on these and other Allied Health programs, contact the Allied Health division at 503.491.7113 or visit www.mhcc.edu/alliedhealth. Serving more than 27,000 students each year, MHCC provides students the education needed for the career of their choice. The college offers more than 60 associate degrees, certificate programs and transfer options in a wide variety of disciplines. Students can also earn a bachelor's degree through partnerships with area universities.

Thompson Street Storm Sewer Project

City Continues Heavy Investment in Infrastructure Projects

The City of Fairview was recently awarded $1,250,000 through the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (Federal Stimulus) to construct the City's next drinking water well (Well #9). These federal funds are directed through the State of Oregon's Safe Drinking Water Revolving Loan Fund. Fairview has been awarded a $625,000 forgivable loan (grant) and a $625,000 low interest loan (3% interest for 20 years). Public Works Director Bob Cochran stated that he feels very fortunate to be selected for this exceptional funding opportunity. "In May 2009, we were informed that our Water Well #9 project was one of 18 projects selected from the 112 applications received by the state" Cochran said. The total project is estimated to cost $1.6 million with the balance coming from the City's water funds. The well, when complete, will add another 1,500 gallons per minute of drinking water to the City's capacity. Construction on the new well should start this fall with completion by May 2010. The Well #9 project will add to one of the busiest construction seasons Fairview Public Works has ever experienced. Numerous construction jobs were completed this summer. These projects include:

Sixth Street Stormwater Replacement - this project was constructed by Montgomery Construction for a cost of $36,939. The project replaced deteriorating storm lines on 6th Street in the Historic Fairview neighborhood.

Third Street Sidewalk Improvements - this project was constructed by Parker NW Paving for a cost of $109,241 and was partially funded by a Federal CDBG award to the City in the amount of $47,600. The project connects the Fairview Community Center and the Fairview Elementary School with a pedestrian sidewalk.

Lincoln Street Sewer Replacement - This project is being constructed by Ground Hawg Construction for a cost of $264,767. The project is partially funded through an American Recovery and Reinvestment Act grant of $73,000. The project is replacing old deteriorating and separating concrete sewer pipe in Historic Fairview with new, plastic pipe.

Thompson Street Stormwater Improvements - This project is being constructed by J.W. Underground for a cost of $118,322. The project will replace a deep ditch along Thompson Street in the western portion of Fairview with new stormwater pipe and stormwater treatment.

Crestwood Shop Remodel - This project is being constructed by Payne Construction for a cost of $319,584. The project increases the Public Works equipment storage facility located on Crestwood Street.

Street Preservation/Slurry Seal Project - As part of the City's newly adopted Pavement Management Plan, Blackline Incorporated recently applied a slurry seal to roads in the Fairview Lake Estates neighborhood, on 228th, 229th and 230th Courts (off of Bridge Street) and Matney and Creekside Terrace for a cost of $36,900. In addition, Multnomah County, under contract with the City, crack sealed 4 miles of residential roads and applied a chip seal to 205th (between Halsey Street and Thompson Street and between Sandy Boulevard and Interstate 84) for a cost of $72,673.

With the impending Well #9 construction, the City will have invested over $2.6 million into improving and maintaining the City's infrastructure and buildings in 2009.

Applications Sought for Budget Committee

Here is your opportunity to learn more about municipal finances and contribute to keeping our city financially solid. There is currently one vacancy on the Fairview Budget Committee. Members of the Budget Committee serve three-year terms. Appointments are made by the City Council. The Fairview Budget Committee is comprised of the Mayor and City Council, as well as seven residents of the City of Fairview. The Budget Committee meets in the spring of each year to review the City's annual budget and to make a recommendation to the City Council. They may also be called into session at other times during the year if a Supplemental Budget is required. Budget Committee members must be residents of the City of Fairview and be eligible to vote according to Oregon State law.

Applications for this opening will be accepted until 5:00 pm on Friday, January 15, 2010. Application forms are available at Fairview City Hall and on the City's website at www.ci.fairview.or.us. If you have questions, please contact Samantha Landau, Finance Director at 503.674.6221.

Donate Books at City Hall

The Reynolds Education Foundation has recently placed a donation bin in City Hall for new/used books, cds and dvds as a fundraiser for the foundation. The Reynolds Education Foundation mission is to support all students in the Reynolds School District by providing resources, funds and information that enhance and enrich the quality of education. Their philosophy is that children need a broad educational experience, which includes education in music, the arts, activities and academics for all students. The work of the foundation is to preserve these high ideals of education for our students. Look for the blue bin on the first floor.

Fairview Police Raise Funds for Special Olympics

On July 17, 2009, four off-duty Fairview Police Officers donated their time and energy to raise money for Special Olympics of Oregon. Bumpers Grill and Bar customers were served by officers participating in the Tip-A-Cop program. In just four hours the officers raised $987 in "tips" for the Special Olympics program but, that was only the beginning. The next morning Mayor Weatherby was informed that we were $13 shy of reaching one thousand dollars. The Mayor offered up $38 and challenged other Fairview City Councilors and department directors to meet or beat his donation. Several have accepted the challenge and "beat" the Mayor. (A special thank you to our elected officers who stopped by the night of the event and donated then as well as those who have contributed to the challenge). The donations are still rolling in and at last count we have raised over $1200!

A huge thank you to all of Bumpers staff who were terrific. We are grateful to all those who participated in Fairview's first Tip-A-Cop program by stopping by and/or making a donation, including the officers who volunteered their time as "servers." The servers were Chief Ken Johnson, Detective Jim Keyser, Officer Pooja Singh and Officer Brad Robertson. Our first Tip-A-Cop was a huge success and benefited a great cause. We are grateful to a community that is so generous and supporting. Our goal is to make this an annual or semi-annual event.

Check Out the Heslin House Museum

After 17 years of dedication and perseverance by many volunteers, the Heslin House Museum, located at 60 Main Street, opened its doors after a ceremonial ribbon cutting on May 18, 2008. Ted Heslin, who passed away in 1991, was the third generation of his family to live in the home, which was once a boarding house. The City of Fairview bought the dilapidated house from the Heslin family in 1991, and formed a partnership with the Fairview-Rockwood-Wilkes Historical Society to help save it. The Historical Society spent the past 17 years renovating the house.

In addition to a museum, the Heslin House is the headquarters for the Fairview-Rockwood-Wilkes Historical Society. The museum is open the 3rd Saturday of each month from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm. The museum is still featuring an exhibit on the early years of the Fairview community.

If you would like to help the Historical Society by volunteering as a docent, working in the garden, or helping with general society activities, please

The Heslin House Museum, located on Main Street, opened in 2008 and hosts tours monthly.

Fairview Parks & Recreation Update

Alex Brown Bridge Gets a New Cedar Shingle Roof

Thanks to the generosity of Gresham Roofing and Gutter the covered bridge, located in Community Park, received a much needed roof replacement. The Alex Brown Bridge was originally built in May 1998. The covered bridge has become a well identified landmark within Fairview Village. It acts as a gateway providing access to the winding trails along Fairview Creek and a connection to the trails leading to Salish Ponds Wetland Park. The meandering trail system is a favorite walking destination for many.

The Alex Brown Bridge was re-roofed in September of this year.

“The commitment to the community was greatly demonstrated by the volunteer labor and the quality of work provided by Gresham Roofing and Gutter,” stated Steve Kaufman, Chair, Parks and Recreation Advisory Committee. “Their good work will be enjoyed by visitors to Community Park for years to come.”

Volunteers Come Together for SOLV ‘Clean & Green’ Event

On Saturday, October 10th, the City of Fairview in partnership with SOLV hosted its 3rd ‘Clean & Green’ project event. The day was a great success thanks to the hard work of seventeen energetic volunteers who pulled almost 3,000 pounds of invasive blackberry. The project site was at the trailhead leading to Salish Ponds Wetland Park as you cross Alex Brown Bridge. Their hard work will allow for the planting and re-establishment of native plants; fostering a healthy wetland and forest.

Fairview Woods Park Trail Improvements Under Construction

On September 22, construction crews began the first phase of park improvements at Fairview Woods Park. Trail work includes the decommissioning and relocation of some trails, trail widening (6 feet) and resurfacing with crushed gravel, and removal of obstructive vegetation 10 to 15 feet along the trail system. Other work includes the removal of select vegetation throughout the park to provide visual corridors and enhance park safety and the planting and re-vegetation of native plants to promote and increase wildlife habitat.

Other park enhancements include the formalization of park entry points, one from Bridge Street and one from Fairview Woods Apartments, and the construction of split rail fences at each entrance. Project completion is expected at the end of October, with a grand re-opening of the park scheduled for Saturday, November 21, 2009.

Clean Streams Start at Home With You

What we do in our daily lives around home, from washing a car to fertilizing the lawn and garden, can affect the health of our streams and rivers. Storm drains on the streets and in parking lots lead directly to the river. Maybe it's a leaky oil pan in our car, or a pesticide we've put in the garden. It may be the family pet's droppings left on the sidewalk.

Even though it may be unintentional, if it's on the ground, rain can wash it into the storm drain; and from there it goes directly and untreated into our neighborhood streams and rivers. The river starts with each of us. So be aware of your impacts to the streams in Fairview.

For more information on stormwater and ideas on how you can make a difference, contact Linda Hulme at 503.674.6234 or call 503.665.9320 to report Spills, Illegal Dumping, or other Stormwater Concerns.

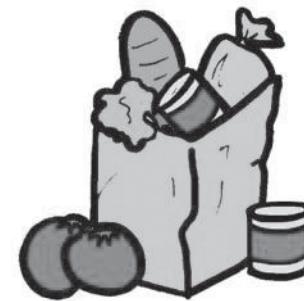

Each of us can make a difference keeping our local streams and rivers clean.

Mt. Hood Community College Classes in Fairview

In a continuing partnership with our local community college, residents can take a variety of classes in the convenient location at the Fairview Community Center. The college is planning to offer flamenco, tap, and belly dance classes along with Pilates, Yoga and Tai Chi classes during the upcoming winter term. For more information on these or other classes, contact the Community Education program at Mt. Hood Community College at 503.491.6979 or their webpage at www.mhcc.org

Could you use some help with grocery shopping?

Store to Door is a non-profit agency that has been operating in Portland since 1989, serving seniors and people with disabilities. The staff and volunteers take grocery orders by phone each week and shop en masse at a local Fred Meyer. From there, orders are delivered throughout the metropolitan area directly to clients' kitchens. Currently, the service does not extend beyond 162nd Street and beyond in East Multnomah County. A coalition of private, public and non-profit organizations is interested in expanding Store to Door service to Fairview and other areas of East Multnomah County. We are seeking community input to assess the need for this service.

Here are some basic facts you should know about the service before responding to the survey. Store to Door is the only shopping service specifically designed to meet the needs of seniors and people with disabilities that:

- Calls from the store when items are not available, allowing you to decide on substitutions
- Is authorized to use food subsidy benefits (Food Stamps/Oregon Trail Card)
- Is an authorized provider for Medicaid and OPI homecare beneficiaries
- Delivers prescription medications, postage stamps, bus and lift tickets
- Gives you credits for store coupon items
- Takes back cans and bottles for recycle, giving you the credits
- Assigns you the same order taker and delivery driver each week
- Will tell you about specials in the weekly store advertisement
- The fee for the service is 10% of the grocery bill.

For more information about Store to Door, check out the website at www.storeto dooroforegon.org or call 503.200.3333.

We would appreciate responses to the following questions:

1. How do you currently get your groceries?
2. How often do you buy groceries?
3. Could you use help with grocery shopping and, if so, how often? (Example: every week, twice a month, once a month, etc.)
4. What would keep you from using Store to Door?
5. What is your zip code?

Please return your responses to Kristina John Baptiste via mail, phone, or email: YWCA East County Senior Services, 600 NE 8th St., Rm 100, Gresham, Oregon 97030; 503-988-3840, x 29988; kristinaj@ywca-pdx.org.

Volunteer with SnowCap Community Charities

If your holidays are about gratitude and sharing, join with local non-profit SnowCap Community Charities to ensure that all of our neighbors enjoy a happy holiday season. Volunteers are needed for the evenings of December 3rd, 21st, 22nd, and 23rd. Come help make Santa Soup, SnowCap Soup de Jour, and many other special recipes. If you are crafty, consider making quilts, children's pajamas, or fleece blankets. Knitters can make mittens, gloves, hats, and scarves. For those who love to shop, consider shopping for a needy child. This will be another tough year for families hit by the recession. The nonprofit is hoping to provide toys for 500 children this year. For more information on holiday volunteer opportunities with Snowcap, contact Kari at kari@snowcap.org or phone at 503.674.8785.

Mayor:
Mike Weatherby
Term Ends:
12-31-10
On Council Since:
2003

Mike Weatherby was first sworn in as Mayor of Fairview on January 2, 2003 and was re-elected in November 2006. Besides his duties as Mayor, Mike enjoys time with his family, going on road trips, antiquing, attending City events and interacting with Fairview citizens, and bike riding through Fairview's neighborhoods.

"My vision includes working towards keeping Fairview as a community that provides a high quality of life for its citizens, in addition to creating a center of thriving commercial and industrial development. I am and will continue to be an advocate for Fairview and work to ensure it a pivotal place within the regional governments. I look forward to working together with the citizens of Fairview to achieve these goals and this vision."

Councilor Kreamier is a lifelong Fairview resident who manages Oregon First Community Credit Union in Fairview Village as well as owning and operating Dan's Fishing Mission Adventures, LLC. In addition to dedicating his time to the Fairview City Council, Councilor Kreamier sits on the Board of Directors of the Credit Association of the Pacific Northwest as well as the Board of the Cascade Academy Foundation. These two organizations raise funds to provide scholarships and credit education to high school and college students. He and his wife Lauri have three beautiful daughters, Caitlyn, Kristin, and Kylie, as well as a Jack Russell terrier, Maggie. In his spare time, he enjoys big game hunting, fishing, and watching his daughters play soccer and basketball.

Councilor Barbara Jones was sworn in to her third term on January 3, 2009. Ms. Jones has been a resident of Fairview since 1995. She is a Workers Compensation Claims manager and a Certified Professional Disability Manager for JH Kelly, LLC. At home, Councilor Jones is the proud mother of two terrific young ladies; she is also the proud grandmother of three beautiful granddaughters. Barbara spends her spare time reading and doing needlework and pottery. In addition to spoiling her grandchildren, she also loves to spoil her rescue animals - (Jade, the Boxer; Max, the Miniature Pincher; Squirt, a Pomeranian mix and Hildigard, the lone Cat in the mix.) Councilor Jones is the City's organizer and committee Chair for the annual Chili on the Green Festival. She enjoys volunteering her time to this annual community event and has contributed extensively to its continued growth over the years.

Councilor Ken Quinby's first term was June 1998 through December 2002. He won his 2nd term for 2005-2008 & was sworn in for a 3rd term in January 2009. Besides his council duties, Ken is self employed in property management and maintenance. Prior to that, he spent 28 years in various industrial hydraulic related fields. Ken has been a member of Portland Water Spectacular, a traveling waterski show team, since 1987. Additionally, he is a former regional competitor & champion long distance water ski ramp jumper. He is a competitive pool player and former softball competitor. Ken is a big fan of this country's founding fathers political philosophy & considers himself a constitutionalist & a servant of those who elected him. He appreciates the opportunity to be a watchdog for the rights of the people. He has an extensive knowledge of nutrition, having studied continuously for over 20 years. He has two grown & married sons and three grandchildren.

Time to Prepare for Ice and Snow

Remember last year's winter storms? Were you stranded at home? Winter is approaching once again and it is time to prepare for the worst. In an ice or snow event, due to overwhelming need or no road access, you may be on your own for several days, and possibly without utilities, after a winter storm. Your home Emergency Kit should contain supplies to sustain you and your family for at least 3 days.

Keep your supplies together in a single location like a closet, shed, or in the garage. If you live in an apartment or have limited space, be innovative. Possible storage locations include under a bed, under stairways, or even using a large box that can be covered with a tablecloth and used as an end table. Start with what you already have on hand. If you are a camper or backpacker, that gear can double as your emergency supplies. Stock food items that you use and rotate them from your emergency supplies to your pantry and replenish your emergency supplies with the items purchased from the store. Below are some basics for your Emergency Kit:

- Go Bag: In case you need to evacuate your family quickly
- Water: 1 gallon per person per day (add extra for pets)
- Food: Ready-to-eat or just-add-water
- Manual can opener
- First Aid kit
- Essential medications
- Flashlight
- Radio (battery-operated or manual)
- Batteries: for radio, flashlights, and other battery operated items
- Cash in small denominations and coins
- A copy of important documents & phone numbers (can be hard copies or electronically stored on a thumb drive or CD)
- Unscented liquid household bleach for Water Purification
- Personal hygiene items including toilet paper, feminine supplies, and soap
- Sturdy shoes
- Heavy gloves
- Extra clothes, a hat, and rain gear
- A local map
- Extra prescription eye glasses, hearing aid, or other personal items
- Plastic sheeting, tarps, duct tape, and utility knife for covering broken windows and holes in roofs
- Blankets or sleeping bags
- Dust mask
- Utility shut-off tools
- Pet Supplies

Let's Hope We Don't See This Again in the Upcoming Months, but Be Prepared

East Coast Company Announces New Records Center in Fairview

LEED-Gold Facility Attracts Company

Archive Systems, Inc., a leading provider of records management services, recently announced that it has expanded its document and records management business into the Pacific Northwest with the launch of a new business records facility in Fairview. The Pacific Northwest regional office will locate into one of the three buildings developed by Birtcher Development in the Townsend Business Park. The new 40,000 square foot facility will serve the Portland, Oregon metropolitan region. “We surveyed potential new markets for our continued expansion and found the Portland region to be an excellent next step. The Pacific Northwest is technology driven, which makes it a strong fit for us. We have received enthusiastic responses from companies in the area about our ability to implement solutions that will streamline their paper-based processes,” said Andy Koval, Executive Vice President of Archive Systems.

Headquartered in Fairfield, New Jersey, Archive Systems is considered a leader in the application of breakthrough technologies to drive efficiency and improve access to documents. The new facility will incorporate barcode tracking, system-driven workflows, and sophisticated records management systems to keep records protected yet easily accessible. With Archive Systems’ digital technologies, clients will be able to manage a complete range of offsite business records storage solutions, including secure document storage and retrieval, digital scan on demand delivery and document indexing, as well as document destruction and recycling. Through Archive Systems’ Virtual Records Center, companies are able to manage their entire digital and hard copy inventory, search the inventory, request physical or Virtual File Delivery, manage retention policies, and order supplies, all from a web browser.

“We are very proud of our Go Green Initiative and wanted to select a facility that represents our environmentally conscious approach. The building integrates daylight photo-sensor controlled lighting, high efficiency fixtures, cool roof technology, heat and air circulation units that are 95% efficient, and other features,” added Koval. The new facility was awarded the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED®) Gold Certification. LEED is an internationally recognized certification system that measures a building or community’s performance across all environmental metrics including energy savings, water efficiency, CO2 emissions reduction, improved indoor environmental quality and stewardship of resources and sensitivity to their impacts.

Health Screenings to be Held at City Hall

Fairview City Hall will once again be the site for Life Line Screening, a leading provider of community-based preventive health screenings. This private company will host their health screenings for interested community members on Monday, November 23, 2009.

Five screenings will be offered that scan for potential health problems related to: blocked arteries, which is a leading cause of stroke; abdominal aortic aneurysms, which can lead to a ruptured aorta; hardening of the arteries in the legs, which is a strong predictor of heart disease; atrial fibrillation or irregular heart beat, which is closely tied to stroke risk; and a bone density screening, for men and women, used to assess the risk of osteoporosis. All five screenings take 60 to 90 minutes to complete. For more information or to pre-register, call 1.888.653.6441, or visit www.lifelinescreening.com.

Plan Now to Attend Tree Lighting Event

For the third year in a row, the City of Fairview will be celebrating the upcoming Christmas holidays with a tree lighting event on Saturday, December 5, 2009. Festivities will take place both in the Community Park and City Hall Building from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. The actual lighting of the tree will take place at 5:00 p.m. as Mayor Mike Weatherby invites children to come up and push the magic button.

As in past years, we will be featuring a variety of different musical entertainment, free pictures with Santa Clause, arts and crafts activities for the kids, and the unique opportunity to take a free carriage ride through the streets of Fairview. This growing community tradition is put together through a variety of partners including People for Parks, Reynolds School District, and the City of Fairview. In addition, as we always like to do, we are planning some surprises to keep the event fresh and new.
